M Book

Foreword

TO THE INCOMING STUDENTS:

Welcome to the University of Maryland!

You have been preparing for this day for twelve years. The M Book is your first link with college.

This year's M Book is new in every way to help you become more easily acquainted with your home for the next four years. For the first time a theme has been employed to increase the value of your "Freshman Bible."

The theme is . . . "An open letter to incoming students (from all present students) about one year at Maryland."

Therefore, the 1956 M Book is arranged as nearly chronologically as possible. Throughout the pages you will learn what the campus activities are and who the campus leaders are. Opening with the Administration section, which contains academic information, the University calendars, rules and regulations, and the faculty members who will aid you; the handbook next mentions the Greeks, since rushing is the first affair on the year's agenda.

Following the sororities and fraternities are the student publications and organizations sections which get underway early in the fall.

Another new feature is a breakdown of sports into seasonal activities; hence, the fall and winter athletics section appears next.

During March will be the combined campus musical production; therefore, drama and music fit in the following slot.

Religious Emphasis Week also falls in the same month.

Following the religion section is the entry of spring-fever-time, when spring sports get underway. During May is the AFROTC Military Day. The final chronological section is honoraries, which are symbolic of June and graduation. This portion of the handbook should be kept in mind since studying is the most important campus activity.

The M Book concludes with the traditional Maryland songs and cheers and with a few more campus aids to newcomers, the back cover closes. Then . . . it's up to you.

It is easy to say a lot about the heritage and advantages of the University of Maryland, especially that you have chosen a fine school. Accredited as one of the outstanding universities in the country, Maryland is perhaps better known as the home of the Sugar Bowl team, the top Interfraternity Council in the country, the first state university chapel, All-American rated student publications, and the many activities you will long remember.

However, remember this: your primary reason for being here is for education. Don't be like the M Book's typical "freshie" Terry Pinn and go overboard with activities, only to have "Dean's Team" grades . . . not the Dean's List. Join only the activities which you can successfully fit into your career as a student at Maryland.

General Information

ACADEMIC

Classes at the University begin on the hour and last for 50 minutes. To gain the greatest measure of success in school, students should realize that grades reflect more than just performance on examinations. Regular attendance in classes is more important for a good average than last minute cramming. Students must wait 20 minutes for Deans, 15 minutes for Doctors, and 10 minutes for instructors, before self dismissal.

There is no unlimited cut system. Students having more than three unexcused absences are reported to the Dean of the College, and notices are sent to his parents. Absences may result in the lowering of a grade, or in complete course failure.

If a student desires to drop a course he must obtain permission from his Dean before the designated date for dropping, generally eight weeks after the beginning of the semester, in order that a failing grade is not received for the course.

Three one-hour exams and a two-hour final exam are usually offered for each course. If an exam is missed, a make-up exam may usually be taken with the permission of the instructor and the payment of $1.00 to the registrar.

ACTIVITIES FEE

The Student Activities fee, which is paid by all undergraduates during registration, pays class dues and supports student publications, dramatic and musical productions, and other general student activities. Students are entitled to free copies of student publications, and may attend dramatic and musical productions free of charge.

ATHLETIC FEE

The Athletic fee supports the intercollegiate sports program. Students may attend all sports events at the University free of charge, upon presentation of proper identification. An Athletic Book and ID Card identify students as such.

BOOKS and SUPPLIES

Text books and school supplies as well as jewelry, stationery and novelty items are available at the Student Supply Store, located in the basement of the Administration Building. The Maryland Book Exchange, opposite the South Gate, also handles books and supplies, both new and used.

COMMUNICATIONS

Students' mail is handled through the campus Post Office which is located in the basement of the Administration building. During registration every student is issued a box, in which letters and notices of the arrival of packages are placed. Packages are called for at the window.

Students may buy postage stamps at the campus Post Office, but all other postal services are obtained at the College Park Post Office, located on Baltimore Boulevard. Mail is delivered twice daily and outgoing mail leaves the campus at 11:15 a. m. and 4:15 p. m. The Administration and campus organizations use the boxes to communicate with students; therefore, boxes should be checked daily. Post Office box numbers must be included on all correspondence.

Telegrams are delivered or telephoned to the residences of students, while students may send telegrams from the University switchboard located in the basement of the Education building.

For inter-campus telephone calls, the campus telephones may be used. For off-campus calls, pay station telephones are available in dormitories, and various campus buildings.

The Armory lounge is located upstairs in the Armory.

The Recreation Hall lounges are in the east end of the Recreation building.

Room A-1 is between the BPA and A & S buildings.

For details on reserving above rooms and other meeting places refer to the Academic Regulations.

PARKING and TRAFFIC

Parking lot spaces are allotted during registration to persons who must drive and park on campus. All cars, both faculty and student, may be registered at the beginning of each year and assigned a parking lot sticker. Drivers of cars found by the University Police parked out of their designated lot will be fined $2.00. Parking lot stickers must be prominently displayed on each automobile. The campus police force is aided by State Police in enforcing traffic laws.

PUBLICATIONS DISTRIBUTION

The Tuesday and Friday editions of the Diamond-back, the student newspaper, are available at stands in the Ad building, Library, Rec. Hall, Dining Hall, and most of the class room buildings on campus. The University's humor magazine, the Old Line, is also distributed in these places on campus. In May, the Terrapin, the University year-book, is distributed from Rossborough Inn. The Freshman handbook, the M-Book, is sent to all incoming students. All four publications are received without charge as part of the Student Activities Fee paid at registration.

RECREATION BUILDING

☛ Serving both daydodgers and resident students, the Rec. Hall, located next to the Women's Field House, contains a large and small lounge, juke-box, television set, and provisions for cards, pool, chess, club meetings, and dances. The snack bar is open from 8:30 a. m. until 1 p. m., weekdays, and 8:30 a. m. until 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

TICKET DISTRIBUTION

Students are admitted to all campus events by presenting proper identification at each function. ID cards and Athletic Ticket Books are identification at Ritchie Coliseum, Byrd Stadium, and for sports or dramatic events seat reservations.

Sports reservations are made at the athletic ticket office in the main Stadium building, where "date" tickets for off-campus people may be purchased.

Reservations for dramatic performances are obtained at the University Theatre box office, located in the basement of the Education building, a week prior to the five-day run.

TRANSPORTATION

Greyhound and Trailways buses leave College Park at regular intervals for Baltimore and Washington. Local bus and street car lines make connections to nearby communities.

History and Traditions

Steeped in time-honored traditions, "the College on the Hill" has always maintained customs worthy of one of the oldest universities in the United States. These traditions . . . from historic Rossborough Inn, which did a thriving business about 1790, to the nearby Class of 1910 Gate near the Baltimore Boulevard, to the present day's bronze Testudo keeping guard in front of the Coliseum and the chimes in the tower of the Agronomy Building . . . have long inspired students to sing praises to their alma mater—Maryland.

The Tunnel, the Wishing Well, May Day—all are part of this tradition. They will always be part of your college career. The friendly "Hello Habit" which has been a Maryland custom for many years will quickly orient you. The pep rallies, convocations, and sports contests will heighten your growing school spirit. You will pass on the history and traditions of the University to all those who will inhabit the Maryland campus in the years, but your memories will linger.

May Queen, climaxed May Day celebration* ▶

History

The University of Maryland dates back to 1807 when the first school of the University, the College of Medicine, was founded in Baltimore. In the more than 140 years since its founding, the University has expanded both physically and in its standards of education, until it now occupies a position as one of the leading universities in the country.

After the College of Medicine was founded, there followed within a few years the establishment of several other professional schools to mark the first expansion of the University. The School of Law was added in 1823, the School of Dentistry in 1882, the School of Nursing in 1889, and in 1904, the Maryland College of Pharmacy completed the Baltimore additions.

At College Park, in 1856, Maryland Agricultural College, the first agricultural college in the United States and the second in the western hemisphere, was established on an estate purchased from Charles B. Calvert, Esquire. The college was financed by the sale of stock at $25 a share.

In 1862, this college became, in part, a state institution with the passage of the Morrill Land Grant Act by Congress. It was one of the first schools to benefit from this act and subsequent federal aids to education.

In 1920, the professional schools of the University in Baltimore, and the Maryland State College, as it was by then known, in College Park were merged to form what is now known as the University of Maryland.

University Seal

Maryland's Great Seal, the oldest of the state seals, was sent to the province of Maryland in 1648 by Lord Baltimore. More than 300 years old, the seal is the only state seal of strictly heraldic character for the other state seals bear emblems representing agriculture, commerce, or some related subject.

The escutcheon bears the Calvert and Crossland arms quartered. The first and fourth quarters are the Calvert Arms. The second and third quarters are from the Crossland, Baltimore's maternal arms. An earl's coronet and full-faced helmet are surmounted on the quarterings. These indicate Lord Baltimore's rank in America. The Calvert crest rests on the helmet. The escutcheon is supported on one side by the figure of a farmer, and on the other by that of a fisherman, symbols of each of Lord Baltimore's estates, Maryland and Avalon. Below the figures is the scroll bearing the Calvert motto: "Fatti Maschii Parole Femine," which means "Deeds are males; words, females." On a border encircling the seal is the legend: University of Maryland . . . 1807 . . . 1856 . . . 1920.

Traditions

Classes, study, and group work are integral parts of our University scene, but colorful traditions and customs handed down through the years help create the most vivid memories of college life.

Freshmen couples usually are quick to follow such a revered custom as the traditional kisses exchanged during the first trip to the secluded Tunnel, located under the roadway which passes the Chapel. The Freshmen should remember, too that dropping a penny in the wishing well at the Rossborough Inn guarantees that his wishes will come true.

The football season is accentuated by student enthusiasm as demonstrated in pep rallies, Homecoming celebrations, house decorations, the frosh-sophomore tug-of-war over Paint Branch Creek and the crowning of a queen. Perhaps the most popular custom at the University is the selection, many times a semester, of campus beauties to reign over every event from a cow-milking contest to the Junior Prom.

Without a mention of Testudo, the campus mascot, a discussion of the football season would not be complete. Testudo is the 500 pound bronze replica of this state's famous Diamondback Terrapin, which always manages to escape the "foreigners" who kidnap him before many major games.

As for the name "Old Liners," the University can thank General George Washington at the Battle of Brooklyn during the Revolution when he said of the Maryland 'defenders,' "the Old Line will hold." Hence, we're the "Old Liner".

At Christmas time a pageant is held following the lighting of a Christmas tree behind Rossborough Inn. Carols are broadcast during the week preceding Christmas vacation.

During the year sororities and fraternities gather with their groups around the nearest pianos to rehearse for the Phi Kappa Tau Barber Shop quartet contest and Tri Delt's Interfraternity Sing.

In the springtime the south gate wall becomes a meeting ground for male students who wish to pass both the time of day and their judgment on coeds walking by. The number of fraternity pins and police parking tickets given out zooms during this period not to mention trips to Greenbelt Lake.

May Day soon heralds the approaching end of the Spring semester as students pause to honor the annual May Queen with a traditional celebration. At this time Mortar Board taps outstanding junior women.

It is during this season that one of Maryland's keenest rivals, Johns Hopkins, is encountered in the annual lacrosse game between the two schools.

Campaigning and electioneering for student government and class offices make very lively campus elections each spring. Each party tries to outdo the other with colorful publicity stunts.

The annual Honors and Awards Assembly, held just before graduation, recognizes achievement in all phases of University life.

Seniors leave their University life behind them at the graduation exercises on the Mall, but forever keep its memories.

The Administration

The Administration officials will be your guides while you are attending the University of Maryland. Composed of all the deans, department-heads, and other personnel, the Administration is headed by University president, Dr. Harry Clifton Byrd. Offices of the President, Dean of Men, registrar, cashier, director of admissions, veterans coordinator, and others are found in the Administration building. Make an effort to meet the members of the staff, and ask them for any help you may need, since they are always willing to aid you.

The Ad building basement is the home of the S. G. A. office, Post Office, and Student's Supply Store where you will also find the most popular bulletin board on campus. Daily many students pass through the halls of this building, which is the nerve center of University life, just as the Administration is the nerve center of campus activities.

New students should let an interest in both become a guiding light during their four years at Maryland.

TO MEMBERS OF THE FIRST YEAR CLASS:

In trying to give incoming Freshmen a message that should help integrate them into the life of the University, it is difficult indeed to know just how to concentrate many thoughts into a few lines.

The Freshman, in orienting himself with University life, is confronted with many questions. The University's program is coordinated with the high school program. Yet, in some respects, a wide gulf exists between the two. The student entering the University for the first time is cut loose from home ties and finds himself in a position where he must act independently and on his own judgment. Boys and girls, away from the disciplines of their homes for the first time, find that they face a problem of self discipline, in which often personal desires must be conquered.

It is my duty as President of the University, it is the duty of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women particularly, and of all members of the Faculty, to help you orient yourself to the new conditions of University life. Tell us what your problems are and our help will be given gladly. Ask any questions you may wish, even if you are afraid that some of them may seem simple.

Remember that you are now a member of the University family. As a family, we are obligated, and it is our pleasure, to help one another.

My office door always is open. Walk in when ever you wish.

It is my great privilege to extend greetings and a hearty and cordial welcome to all new and returning students through the pages of the M-BOOK.

A college education is both a privilege and a responsibility, and those of you fortunate enough to have one should make the most of it. Remember you will get out of a college education just what you put into it. We hope you will enjoy your years at Maryland, form lasting friendships, enjoy the beauty of our campus, and respect our traditions.

The door of my office, as well as those of my staff, is always open to the students. Stop by and get acquainted, and bring your problems to us.

Dean of Men

It is always a pleasure to welcome the new freshman class as each incoming class brings new ideas and life to the University. At the same time, each of you are starting a new period of your development and you will now become responsible for your own mental, social, moral, and physical training. This is a transition period to the time when you go out into the world on your own.

Your very deed—whether academic, social, or moral—is recorded in your character and sometimes, unfortunately, in the premanent records of the University. Enjoy and make the best of this period of your career by being industrions, studious, agreeable, and honest.

The deans, faculty, chaplains, and all others are here to assist you, but they cannot unless you go to them with your problems. I will be glad to see you in my office at any time.

Student Life Committee

The Faculty Committee on Student Life serves as one of the most important forces on the University of Maryland Campus. It is the connecting link between the student body and the Administration and serves to advise the Student Government Association, as set up by University regulations. Its main function is that of approving every club, honorary, or Greek letter organization which is established on the campus. Appointed by the President of the University, the committee is composed of faculty members who are interested in the several aspects of campus life. Headed by Dean James H. Reid, it maintains constant surveillance on activities, advises their affairs, and suggests improvement for unsatisfactory conditions which may arise. The committee also manages university social affairs and sanctions various traditional week-ends, dances, and convocations. Other members of the committee are: Prof. Russell Allen, Mr. Allen Bowers, Dean Geary Eppley, Mr. Robert James, Professor Amihaud Kramer, Dr. Clarence Newell, Prof. James Outhouse, Mr. Warren Stransbaugh, Coach James Tatnm, Dr. Charles White, Miss Dorothy Binns, Dr. Susan Harman, Miss Alma Preinkert, and Dean Adele Stamp.

Student Government Association

The University's organization for self-representation, the Student Government Association, is divided into three sections: the Executive Council, the Men's League, and the Women's League.

Heading the S.G.A. is the Executive Council, the student group which decides questions of student policy, appropriates activity funds, and supervises all extracurricular activities, through various committees. The Men's and Women's League are responsible for the enforcement of campus regulations.

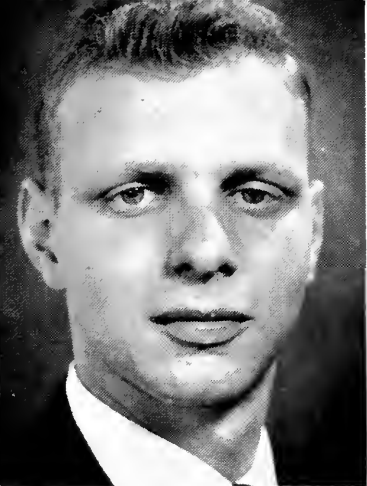

Through the S. G. A., the student activities fee is appropriated to finance dances, games, shows, and other student activities. The Executive Council meets every two weeks and all students are welcome.

Interested students join committees to perform the actual Association work. Qualified applicants head them each year.

Meet your S. G. A. and class officials, and ask questions about student activities. Only by maintaining an acute interest in campus affairs can you help to bring the improvements which many feel are needed.

RUBENSTEIN

S.G.A. President

On behalf of the student body, I take great pleasure in welcoming you, the incoming freshmen, to the University of Maryland. We, your fellow students, are pleased to have you with us. We are certain that our association will be a pleasant one, beneficial to all.

You will find that the University encompasses a wide range of activity of which you will become a part. The Student Government Association sincerely invites you to participate in these activities. The publications, theatre, and all other clubs at the University seek your membership and support. These organizations are a part of our student community which is headed by the S.G.A., your student government. The S.G.A. encourages cooperation and an active interest on your part by an expression of your ideas.

Elections

Student Government Association and class offices are filled by elections which take place in the spring. If three candidates for offices are nominated, a primary is held a week prior to the final election. Any student may run for an office. Candidates for Executive Council posts must be nominated from the floor of the S.G.A. at a specially designated meeting. Class office candidates must procure a specified number of petition signatures prior to the deadline in order to run. Normally an assembly is held at which candidates state their qualifications. The election campaigns are a colorful highlight of the school year.

Committees

The Student Government Association operates through the use of committees, set up by the Executive Council. All students are eligible to work on SGA committees.

Chairmanships are open to those students writing an application letter listing their qualifications and experience.

Sub-committee chairmen are selected to serve under the chairman on the basis of experience.

SGA committees under the constitution are Ways and Means, Elections, and Organization and Procedure.

The president of the Executive Council has named the following committees: Student Welfare, Social Affairs, Campus Improvement, Student Activities, Constitution, Campus Chest, Freshman Orientation, Homecoming, Dad's Day, Student Union, Cultural Program, Public Relations, Traffic Appeals, and Job Placement.

Women's League
President

TO THE INCOMING FRESHMEN WOMEN:

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you on behalf of Women's League to the University of Maryland.

You are indeed fortunate to further your education at such a fine school. It is a great opportunity and a challenge—a challenge that you will meet successfully if you apply yourself seriously to the scholastic routine and if you engage in one or more extra-curricular activities.

The Women's League office in the Dean of Women's Building will always be open to you—for aid, sisterly advice, and your participation in Women's Student Government.

We are looking forward to meeting you. Good luck!

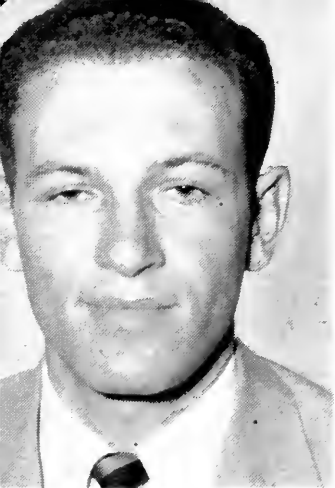

Women's League

President	ALMA GROSS
Vice-President	DIANE FOSTER
Secretary	JOY COVERT
Treasurer	MARY MARGARET MUELLER

As a new woman student you will find that you will soon be a part of Women's League and will help to fulfill its goals for the general welfare of the women students. You will encounter the League often in your campus life, for it formulates, administers, and interprets the rules governing women students.

Every woman student is a member of Women's League, which serves as a governing body for the women students and encourages their participation in student life. The Dean of Women's staff constitutes the Advisory Board of the Women's League. The organization consists of three divisions: the Executive Council, Legislative Council, and Judicial Board. The Executive Council is the active administration organization consisting of League officers, Judicial Board chairman, Dormitory presidents, Panhellenic representative, and the ISA representative.

The Legislative Council consists of those members of the Executive Council in addition to all of the residence hall presidents. The Judicial Board, which has jurisdiction over violations of women's regulations, maintains a high level of personal and group standards of behavior in the college community.

Men's League
President

As the President of the Men's League, and therefore, as one of your Student Government representatives, I would like to welcome you to the University of Maryland and college life. You will find this portion of your career one that will do much to fashion your entire life; so make your four year stay at Maryland a profitable and worthwhile one. Remember the old adage, "you will only get out of college what you put into it." Hence, I urge you to participate in sports, join campus organizations, write for student publications, be a part of theatre productions, or the many other activities here. But, above all, remember you are here as a student . . . so study as hard as you play. You won't be sorry.

Good luck to you all!

Men's League

President	MORTY COHEN
Vice-President	JIM SINCLAIR
Secretary	CHARLES MOORE
Dorm Council Chairman	ED FOCKLER

The Men's League is the representative body of the male students of the University serving to assist the Dean of Men in administering University rules and regulations, and assisting the dorm manager in enforcing the code of conduct for the men's dorm. There are two divisions of the League—the Executive Council and the Dormitory Council.

The League works with the Dean of Men in planning dormitory improvements and additions which will make your stay at the University more comfortable and safe. Each year the Council awards a bronze cup to the outstanding male graduate based on character, achievement, and service to the University.

The Executive Council is composed of the above officers and elected representatives of each class, Alpha Phi Omega, Inter-Fraternity Council, and Independent Student's Association.

The Dormitory Council serves as a disciplinary board for offenders of the dormitory regulations and also works to encourage dormitory activity and comradeship through the proctors.

The proctors are students who maintain order and discipline in the dormitories and serve as advisors and counsellors to the students. They see to it that quiet hours are observed for studying, that rooms are kept clean, that health standards are maintained, and that the other dormitory regulations are not broken.

Sororities

The jeweled and gold pin is the visible symbol of the social sorority to a college coed. It signifies the closely knit group which a sorority woman finds in her own Greek organization.

To you who are about to enter your future sorority falls the task of choosing the one best suited for you. Your own personality is the key to your selection. Open-mindedness in your approach towards all of the sororities is necessary, since each group is striving for the goals of friendship, scholarship, and leadership.

Check all financial responsibilities which you'll be required to meet. Then join the group where you've had the most fun, meet the greatest number of "your type," and in which you believe you will find the greatest happiness.

Don't be discouraged about losing a bid to the sorority of your choice. Often you will find that this can be rectified during informal rushing when you'll be able to look the sororities over more carefully.

Sororities are one of your first introductions to college life. Meet the challenge directly; you will find much enjoyment in working together towards a better understanding of yourself, your friends, and your university.

Anne Schindel, President of Panhellenic Council, surveys the pins in her realm ▶

Panhellenic Council

President	ANNE SCHINDEL
Vice-President	SHIRLEY CLAGGETT
Secretary	JACKIE PURNELL
Treasurer	JENNIFER WELLBORN

The Panhellenic Council serves to maintain a wholesome sorority spirit with cooperation in inter-sorority relations at the University; maintain high scholarship and social standards; and compile rules governing rushing, pledging, and initiation. Panhel is divided into two sections, a Junior Council consisting of pledges, and a Senior Council made up of active sorority women. Each year the group sponsors the Panhellenic Pledge Dance at which time a Pledge Queen is named.

Important Rush Rules

All sorority women and students interested in rushing should be familiar with, understand, and adhere to these rush rules.

Formal rushing is the period beginning on September 13, 1952, with open house teas, and continuing until pledging one week later. Rush functions will be held at specified times only. Alpha Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Sigma Delta Tau will interrupt their rush program with the observance of Yom Kipper Holidays, pledging their women a few days later than the other sororities.

No women, except sorority actives and pledges, may be present for rush functions. Rushees will be allowed to visit sorority houses only for specified functions.

Standard Panhellenic Rules

Any woman eligible for matriculation at the University and unaffiliated with any National Panhellenic Fraternity is eligible for rushing.

Students attending summer school are ineligible for rushing until formal rushing begins in the fall semester.

During rush week, if a woman expresses her preference in writing, or formally accepts a bid, or wears a sorority's colors during open rushing following rush week, she is ineligible to pledge another sorority. Women not pledged during the formal period are urged to enter informal rushing.

A pledgeship expires one calendar year from the date of pledging at which time the student is eligible to pledge another sorority. A pledge who is released, or breaks her pledgeship, with a certain chapter during her pledge year, is ineligible to pledge another sorority until one calendar year from the date on which her pledgeship was broken. This rule is binding to any campus on which the student may matriculate.

Initiation of any pledge results from the completion of fifteen credit hours in the preceding semester at the University with at least a C average and no failures for that semester. These women must be students in good standing and cleared with the Dean of Women's office.

Fraternities

To join or not to join, that is the question. Determining this is a difficult, yet important, problem. A wise choice on your part will lead to many happy days at Maryland and the establishment of lifelong friendships.

Often rushees wonder "What is a fraternity and what is expected of me if I join one?" To answer this question, a group of Maryland men joined in a bull session and agreed that: "A FRATERNITY IS: a group of men joined together through the bonds of brotherhood, striving toward their common attainment of high scholastic, social, moral, and spiritual goals and to aid in supplementing the University program as a whole." These thoughts may answer some of your rushing questions.

While attending the various events of Formal Rushing, strive to visit as many of the houses as you can. In narrowing your choice, investigate the financial structure of your favorites. Perhaps another guide in helping you select the one you like most, is to discover which of your classmates have the same preference since you will be associated with them longer than any of the others in the fraternity. Above all, don't let some over-zealous group "high pressure" you into their fraternity before you've had an opportunity to make up your own mind.

Your choice should be their choice . . . it's up to you.

IFC President Ronald Pierce looks over the pins of Maryland fraternity men ►

Fraternity Criteria

The National Interfraternity Conference, founded in 1908, serves to bring about closer harmony among the 64 national fraternities in the group. Annually, national undergraduate councils and college administrators attend a conference, results of which are reported in the N. I. C. yearbook.

A fraternity criteria, which serves to advance fraternity-educational institution cooperation, was submitted by N. I. C. executives in 1934 and approved by the American Association of Deans and Advisors of Men. It reads as follows:

1. That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.

2. That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student . . . with his institution are to the institution, and that . . . a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility . . . for the conduct of the individual.

3. That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.

4. That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.

5. That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe and wholesome physical conditions in the chapterhouse.

6. That the fraternity should (instill) principles of sound business practice both in (personal) and chapter finances

The IFC fosters and maintains friendly and cooperative relations among the campus fraternities.

Each year the Council sponsors the Interfraternity Ball and a fraternity league athletic program. Scholarships and activities cups are presented to outstanding fraternities by the group.

Fraternity rushing is supervised by the council, beginning on September 26 through October 5. All rushees receive the local IFC's publication, "The Fraternity Way" at registration when they sign up for rushing.

Interfraternity Pledge Council

This group, consisting of one representative from each fraternity, was organized by the Interfraternity Council to unite the pledges of the various fraternities.

The council is re-formed each fall after pledging and meets twice a month. In past years, these meetings have resulted in parties for pledge classes, a united pledge project, IFC education, and panels which discussed pledge problems.

IFC Trophy

Last year the local Interfraternity Council was named as the outstanding council of all colleges with fraternities in the NIC. Under Marvin Perry's presidency, the Maryland IFC received the honor for its outstanding program and meritorious service to the University program. The trophy, which will be on view in the Administration building lobby until November, is the overall trophy for the best IFC in the United States. Also at the national NIC convention, the University received an award as the outstanding IFC in a large school in a small town for the past year.

Fall and Winter Sports

Athletics, intercollegiate and intramural, play an important part in the college career of every student of the University. The athletic department has set up a year-round sports program, with both varsity teams and dorm teams. Starting with the clash of football helmets on fall Saturday afternoons until the breaking of the tape at the last track meet, every student has an opportunity to participate in a wide sports program. No matter what your abilities may be, there is a place for you on a competitive athletic team, if you, as an individual, are willing to make the effort.

Throughout the fall and winter seasons, avid sports fans fill Byrd Stadium to yell for the "big Red and White team." When cold spells hit College Park, the Ritchie Coliseum becomes a center of activity with the fastbreaking basketball teams, the "slugfest" boxing matches, and the grunts and groans of wrestlers.

Statistics and Schedules

In the won and lost columns, every Maryland varsity team finished in the black except the boxing team. Even though the soccer squad and the wrestling team ended their regular seasons with identical six wins and two losses, both teams went on to become Southern Conference title holders. Despite a five won and no loss record, the cross country team failed to win the Conference crown after holding the title for four straight years.

Football

Coach Jim Tatum's early prediction that the 1951 football team would be the best team he had ever coached came true, as his Red and White eleven trounced the nation's number one team—Tennessee, 28-13, in the Sugar Bowl. In battling to the first undefeated, untied season for a Terp football team, the Terrapins established twelve new records. Toppling nine opponents during the regular season, the Maryland offense produced 52 touchdowns and 38 extra points for a grand total of 354 points. Spearheaded by Ed Modzelewski, the Terp backfield gained 3,822 yards.

West Virginia yielded a record of 602 yards to the Terp onslaught for the most ever gained against a single Old Line opponent. Joe Horning's return of Missouri interception for a TD was another new all-time mark. Quarterback Jack Scarbath connected for 23 passes in 44 attempts in the Navy game, giving an adequate account of Maryland's potential air power. The defensive corps was not to be outshown, as they established a new mark by snaring 34 opponents' passes. This unit also limited Maryland's opponents to an average of only 75.7 yds. per game.

A total of 17 lettermen have left the all-victorious team, while 24 "M" wearers will return. Missing will be the Terp's great All-American guard Bob Ward and Ed Modzelewski, who was voted the outstanding player in the New Year's Day Sugar Bowl classic in New Orleans.

The Sugar Bowl Game

Md. 28, Tenn. 13

Last year was one of the greatest in the sports history of the University of Maryland. The football team had a perfect season and topped off their record with a smashing defeat over the team rated as the number one team in the nation . . . the University of Tennessee. The historic game took place at the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans on the first day of the New Year, 1952.

The "big red team" from Tatum Town plowed through the Tennessee territory for a 28-13 victory. In doing so, the Old Liners unofficially became the 1951 top team in the nation, replacing their saddened opponents, the Volunteers, in the slot. Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski copped the Warren V. Miller Memorial Trophy as the outstanding player in the Sugar Bowl classic. "Mo" gained a total of 153 yards rushing in 28 cracks at the Volunteer line during the afternoon. All the Terps ran rampant along with Mo and watched the surprising upset of All-American Hank Lauricella of the Vol squad.

This is the second bowl classic in which Jim Tatum's boys have been victorious. The first one was the New Year's day card at the Gator Bowl, in 1950, over Missouri. The Terps tallied 20-7 over the Tigers in the Jacksonville tilt.

Many Maryland fans made the trip south to the Sugar Bowl along with the team and the band. New Orleans rolled out a red carpet for the wildly celebrating Marylanders following the big game.

Soccer Coach

DOYLE ROYAL

Soccer

Coach Doyle Royal's soccer team brought home a third straight Southern Conference championship last year, with co-captains Eric Baer and Don Soderberg leading the team through a season of six wins against two defeats with their conference slate being unmarred.

The booters included Washington and Lee, Loyola, North Carolina State, Hopkins, North Carolina and Duke among their victims, while the two losses were suffered at the hands of Penn State and Connecticut.

The Maryland coach will open the season without the services of Baer, Soderberg, John Hamilton, and James Savage. Baer, who made the Olympic final tryouts, Hamilton, and Savage, all were selected to the All-American and All-Southern Conference teams. Baer received the distinction of being the only unanimous choice on the All-Conference team.

Track Coach

JIM KEHOE

Cross Country and Indoor Track

Maryland's fleet-footed cross country team stretched its streak of wins in dual competition through its fifth consecutive season during the fall of 1951; however, the fifth straight Southern Conference title was just beyond their grasp. Coach Jim Kehoe's charges showed their winning heels to Navy, North Carolina, Duke, Pennsylvania, and Richmond.

Balance and depth proved to be two key factors in Maryland's first indoor track championship. The tracksters broke a seven year stranglehold on the crown by North Carolina and came out on top in the meet at Chapel Hill. Al Buehler and Jack Unterkofler were repeat winners of their respective 1950 titles.

Top indoor meets in the East, where the Terps were very much in evidence, included the Evening Star games, the Philadelphia Inquirer games, and the Melrose games in Madison Square Garden, with Maryland's two mile relay team taking first place in the latter two meets.

Rifle Coach

HARLAND GRISWOLD

Rifle

The varsity rifle team climaxed their season, taking second place in the National Intercollegiate Rifle Telegraphic championship. The final tally showed the Terps tied for first place, but a two point difference in the standing position kept them from topping the title.

The riflemen, coached by Col. Harland Griswold, finished their dual season without a loss, including a win over M.I.T., 1951 Intercollegiate National champs. They won the Middle Atlantic Championship at the Naval Academy, shooting against 76 colleges. Bob Martorana captured the tournament's individual trophy.

Bob Mouser, Ray Oster, Dick Gorey, Bud Barton, and Martorana paced the sharpshooters, with Barton's score of 292X300 being the highest for the year.

Maryland's team score of 1439X1500 was the highest obtained by any intercollegiate team last year.

Basketball Coach

BUD MILLIKAN

Basketball

Since Bud Millikan took over the coaching reins at Maryland, the Terrapin basketball team qualified for the annual Southern Conference tournament for the second straight year. In their bid for the S. C. title, the Terps lost to the Duke Blue Devils 51-48 in the last four minutes of play.

The hoopsters finished their season with an overall record of 13 wins against 8 losses. Maryland ranked among the top ten teams in the nation defensively, as the Terps held their opponents to an average of 50.7 points per game.

Individual high scoring honors for the year went to senior Lee Brawley who contributed 265 of a total of 1,197 points scored in the 21 games. Brawley completed his collegiate career by passing the 1,000 mark for an all-time Maryland achievement. Sophomore Gene Shue followed closely in the scoring with 222 points.

Boxing Coach
FRANK CRONIN

Boxing

Frank Cronin, who is in his second year as head boxing coach, has high hopes for the coming season, despite a two win, three loss, and one tie record of last season.

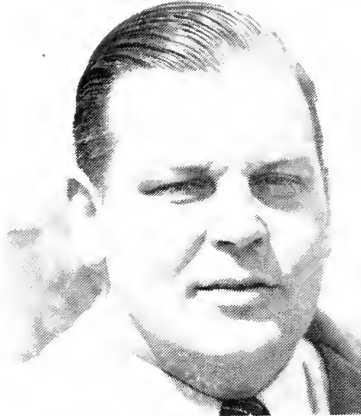

Returning stalwarts include Ronnie Rhodes, 165 pound Southern Invitational Tournament title holder, Gary Garbor, former Army world-wide bantam weight champion, and Cal Quenstedt, Maryland's reliable heavyweight performer.

Before capacity crowds in the Ritchie Coliseum, Cronin's sluggers won both of their home encounters. Miami was the first team to engage the Terps at home. Quenstedt came through with a decision in the unlimited class to break a $3\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ deadlock with the Hurricanes. Quenstedt duplicated his feat in the following match against Army, giving the Terps another decision by the same score.

Cronin predicts a great year for Rhodes, former Texas Open 160 pound A. A. U. champ. Rhodes defeated South Carolina's Howard Collins to win the S. I. T. crown at Baton Rouge, La.

Wrestling Coach

SULLY KROUSE

Wrestling

Coach Sully Krouse's wrestling team took their second straight Southern Conference championship this year after finishing a six win and two defeat season. Matt Flynn, Rodney Norris, Bob and Ernie Fisher, and Jack Shanahan, this year's captain, came away with individual title honors.

Ernie Fisher, who was voted the outstanding wrestler in the Southern Conference, and Norris each registered seven wins without suffering a single loss in dual competition.

Norris, in qualifying for the Olympic tryouts at Ames, Iowa, became the first Maryland wrestler to qualify for the final tryouts after taking first place in the Regional tryouts at Princeton.

The Old Liners also added the District A. A. U. team title to their conquests for the fifth straight year and set a record for having the most men in the semi-finals of the Southern Conference, registering more falls than any Conference school has ever had

Freshman Sports

The fact that there is a place in Maryland athletics for everyone cannot be overemphasized. Plenty of opportunity is available to every student; the stepping stones to the varsity teams are their freshmen counterparts.

Although the schedules for the freshmen teams are limited, these teams are given every encouragement and provided with able coaches. Future material for the varsity teams is picked from the freshmen squads. Therefore the development and progress of every frosh competitor means a great deal to the varsity coaches who fill their vacancies from the yearling squads.

Frosh Football

Last season the freshman gridgers were coached by Emmett Cheek. The yearlings only played two contests, defeating Bainbridge Prep School, while suffering a defeat to the North Carolina freshmen.

Newcomers to the varsity this year who were standouts for last year's freshmen are Ronny Waller, John Bowersox, and Don Shannon. Waller, whose main asset is speed, paced the yearling backfield and is looked upon to do a repeat performance with the varsity. Both Bowersox and Shannon were top guards with the frosh and may alleviate the losses suffered at guard positions on the varsity by Bob Ward and Pete Ladygo.

Frosh Basketball

The 1952 freshman basketball squad was considered by the Terp coaching staff as one of the better in Maryland history. In spite of a mediocre frosh five wins and five loss record, the material forwarded to next year's varsity squad are all good players, who played hard to overcome this year's problems.

Top in the freshman lineup with an average of 21.7 points per game was Tom Young. Rounding out the starting frosh five were Dave Webster, Bob Dilworth, Jay Butler, and Bill Martin.

Frosh Wrestling

An up and coming frosh wrestling team registered a second straight year without a loss—one win and one tie. The Baby Terps beat Johns Hopkins and tied Navy. Strong contenders for varsity berths for the coming season will be Frank Scarfile, John Little, Bob Dreier, and Pete Mahoney.

Lacrosse

Coach Danny Bonthron's freshmen lacrosse team finished their three game schedule with a win over Charlotte Hall Military Academy and losses to the Navy Plebes and Johns Hopkins. Frosh goalie Bud Schweitzer, who received credit for 19 saves against Hopkins, Charlie Aler, and Charlie Longset will make a strong bid for a place on next year's varsity team.

Publications

Students with writing or business ability are invited to work on any of the University's four publications where they may learn the functions of the editorial, advertising, and circulation departments.

The Diamondback, the student newspaper, is published twice weekly, on Tuesday and Friday. Presenting a pictorial scene of Maryland campus life is the yearbook, the Terrapin. For the past few years The Diamondback and the Terrapin have received All-American ratings for publications in their fields.

Creative writing and drawings are found in the magazine, the Old Line, well known as Maryland's humor magazine. The M Book, the freshman handbook, is published once a year and mailed to all incoming September students.

There is always a need for new and fresh talent in the publications' offices, located in GG5. Freshmen are urged to begin work on publications during their first year so that they may advance to major positions if they show interest and ability in minor assignments. Contributions and suggestions are always welcomed by staff members.

A cup is presented annually by Pi Delta Epsilon to the outstanding freshman in publications.

To be kept as a written and graphic record of college day, the yearbook is published annually. Last year the Terrapin received an award of excellence from the National Scholastic Press Association.

Students may volunteer for work on the book by applying in the Terrapin office in GG5. Advancement to major positions is made on the basis of interest and ability.

If you are interested in creative writing, art work, and jokes, you are welcome to work on the Old Line, the student literary and humor magazine, which is published six times a year.

Membership on the staff is open to all students in both editorial and business fields; contributions are accepted from staff members and non-members alike. The office is in GG5.

Maryland Magazine

The Maryland Magazine is published for the alumni by the University six times a year. It includes articles about the University and members of the alumni, for whom it is principally intended. Students may buy copies at the Students' Supply Store or at local magazine stands.

University Catalogues

A separate catalogue is published for each of the eight colleges at College Park. Catalogues of the colleges give the curricula of each, the requirements for graduation, and a description of each course that is offered.

A general catalogue contains the entrance requirements of the University and information regarding fees and facilities. Students may obtain copies free of charge in the publications office Room 28, Symons Hall.

Student Directory

A student directory is published by the University shortly after the beginning of the fall semester. It includes names, colleges, addresses, and phone numbers of all students. The directory lists the same information for the members of the faculty and administration. Phone numbers of all campus offices are also listed. Students may purchase directories at the Student's Supply Store.

Academic and General Regulations

Each year a bulletin on academic and general regulations is published. It includes information on attendance, degree requirements, campus publicity, traffic regulations, and arrangements for campus functions. Students may obtain copies at the publications office, Room 28 of Symons Hall.

Organizations

Whether it's flying or French that you're interested in wrestling with, there's a club for you at Maryland.

With seventy-odd organizations devoted to spare time activities, incoming students will find an amazing variety of extracurricular interests in which they may participate.

Joining a campus club is one of the surest ways to make new friends and take advantage of college life. Becoming acquainted with fellow students and working with them on projects of common interest can be exciting and fun, too! You may not retain chemistry lectures, but you're sure to remember weekend trips with the Trail club, Home Ec club fashion shows, Tuesday nights at the Ballroom Dance club, and pep rallies staged by the Student Activities Committee.

Organizations at Maryland are the central meeting point for students from all over the campus. Whether the club is religious, departmental, athletic, or social, your membership in it will help to broaden and strengthen your interests, personality, and friendships.

Remember when you join any club that those who benefit most from it are those who serve it best!

Drama and Music

Greasepaint and footlights, leotards, and the sound of an "inverted seventh" lure many would-be actors, dancers, and singers to try out for University drama and music productions each year.

Opportunities for acting, directing, and backstage work are offered by the University Theater which annually presents four major productions and several centrally staged Play Circle productions. The main UT productions are held in the Central Auditorium while Play Circle shows "go on stage" in R-112. UT welcomes with open arms all interested students who are willing to work in any phase of drama.

Music at Maryland is provided by several organizations which entertain both on and off the campus. The Men's Glee Club and the Women's Chorus which travel to nearby cities for concerts, are both eager to acquire new voices. The Band plays for parades, sports events, and recitals, while the Orchestra presents an annual concert. The newly formed Chapel Choir offers students with a good musical background a chance to sing for Sunday services in the University Chapel.

Musical productions are included in the Clef and Key and Modern Dance Club programs. The latter group also gives an annual concert. Last year Clef and Key, the Modern Dance Club, and University Theater combined to present the musical production "Good News."

University Theatre is composed of students elected to membership by participation in campus dramatic productions. It presents four major productions and several centrally staged shows each year. Tryouts are open to all students regardless of previous dramatic experience. Students interested in backstage work are also needed to assist with each production.

The purpose of UT is to present opportunities for students to gain practical experience in all phases of play production. Students who have worked satisfactorially on three productions, either in acting or backstage work are eligible for membership.

During the past year, the University Theatre produced "Room Service," "Guest in the House," "Good News," "Ah, Wilderness!," "Rope," "Ghosts," and "Outward Bound." Plays under consideration for presentation this year are "The Hasty Heart," "Girl Crazy" or "The Connecticut Yankee," "Saint Joan," and "Volpone, the Fox." Plans are underway to take one of the shows on a tour around the Washington-Baltimore area.

Women's Chorus

President	PEGGY TOPPING
Vice-President	MARY LOU MCKINLEY
Secretary	LUANN CROGAN
Treasurer	CONNIE TURNEY

The Women's Chorus, which celebrates its nineteenth anniversary this year, is the leading women's music group on the campus. Known for its numerous engagements, the chorus was featured at May Day ceremonies, Fall Convocation, and in a concert for the Naval Academy in 1951-52.

Combining with the Men's Glee Club as the Mixed Chorus, the women presented Handel's "Messiah" at Christmas and "The Holy City" at Easter.

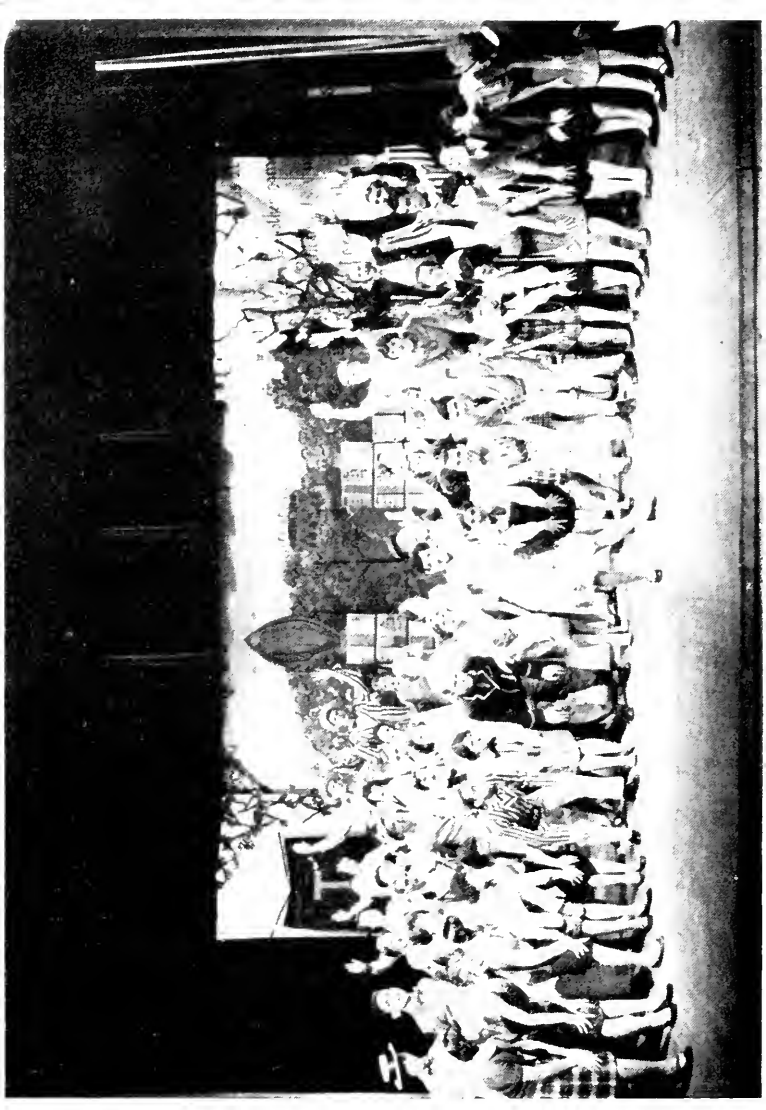

All women are invited to attend the fall tryouts for membership in the Women's Chorus. Dr. Harlan Randall directs the chorus, while Dr. Westervelt Romaine is the director of Mixed Chorus.

Vice-President	THOMAS MUMPER
Secretary	ROBERT DEDMAN
Treasurer	JAMES BLACKWELL

The Men's Glee Club is the organization for all budding Pinzas and Merrills on campus. The men gain much enjoyment from performing as a singing group. The annual concert tour through Maryland, combined performances with women at Middletown, Baltimore, and for the student body all added up to another fine year.

All men are invited to attend rehearsals.

Clef and Key

Officers to be elected in the fall.

Faculty Advisor...DR. WESTERVELT ROMAINE

This year, Clef and Key came into its own as an outstanding music organization. The culmination of the past year's efforts was the production of the musical comedy "Good News." This performance was unique in that it marked the first truly successful "marriage" of Clef and Key, University Theatre, and the Modern Dance Club. The production was a huge success featuring flappers, the Charleston, raccoon coats of the "Roaring 20's." Even inadequate staging facilities were no detriment. The cast had a wonderful time presenting this comedy to the University, and the University enjoyed seeing the "flaming youths" cavort on stage.

On tap for this year is a production of a similar nature, perhaps more elaborate than "Good News." The possibilities for student activities in Clef and Key productions are almost unlimited. Casts are enormous and roles range from the leading soprano to the almost-forgotten alto in the chorus. If acting and singing aren't your forte, there is plenty of need for back stage and house committee members. All students are urged to participate in Clef and Key if they have any theatrical bent at all.

The University of Maryland Band

President	HOWLAND FISK
Vice-President	WILLIAM DUSMAN
Secretary	BETTY JEAN ENDSLOW
Drum Major	WILLIAM DUSMAN
Drum Majorette	BETTY WOODARD

Prominent at all football games is the University of Maryland Band. Not only is the band noted for its fine playing, but for its skill as a coordinated drill team. Half-time ceremonies are livened up considerably by the marching of the band and the baton-twirling of the majorettes. Outstanding among this past year's events was the trip to New Orleans for the Sugar Bowl. The Maryland Band was acknowledged to be one of the finest bands ever to perform in the Sugar Bowl.

Membership in the band is open to all students interested in music of this type and who are willing to give the time necessary to maintain the high standards of the band. Awards for service to the band are made each spring at the Awards Assembly.

Religion

For each of you there is a group here whose concern is your happiness, born of "the peace of God which passeth all understanding." This group is the religious club of your own faith, organized on campus to help you more fully understand the importance of God in your life.

As you and your group share and increase this understanding, religion will become a design for living and a cause for working. As you learn these concepts you will be able to answer your own problems and questions about life.

In order to meet the problems of the complex world in which we find ourselves living, you must thoroughly answer these questions in your mind by being aware of the truths of all faiths and by dissolving religious prejudices, and working toward insoluble bonds of mutual understanding. The attainment of a brotherhood of man, which understands each other and works together, is the project of the Student Religious Council.

To help you achieve this understanding they advocate a five point program: worship . . . pray . . . serve . . . evangelize . . . and partake of fellowship. In this way you can become sure of the existence of God, wholeheartedly embrace your fellow men, and truly enjoy your campus religious club experiences.

No matter what faith you are or what you believe, if you believe with others, your group will become an integral part of your education. Don't skimp on this phase of your learning—it will mean a fuller life.

The University Chapel ►

The University's New Chapel

With pride the University of Maryland opens to you its mecca of worship for all faiths on campus—the new University chapel.

In the main chapel about 1,000 persons may be seated, and in the small chapel in the rear of the building 100 may worship together. All of the on-campus members of the different denominations can be accommodated.

Also in the chapel, which was designed by Henry Hopkins, there are offices for clergymen of the different denominations.

Religious Life Committee and Student Religious Council

President	CULVER LADD
Vice-President	DIANE FOSTER
Secretary	GERALDINE DEL GIORNO
Treasurer	BRUCE URICH

The Student Religious Council is the co-ordinator of campus religious clubs. Advised by the faculty's Religious Life Committee, the Council plans and promotes interfaith activities for the entire student body. Representatives from each religious club form the council, and plan a Religious Emphasis Week each year. SRC meetings are held each Tuesday at 4 p. m. in the west council room of the Chapel.

Religious Emphasis Week

A week full of church services, suppers, and talks by outstanding religious leaders composes Religious Emphasis Week. These leaders visit religious clubs, dormitories, and sororities and fraternities to hold fireside chats with students. They also conduct forums and seminars. The opening event, which typifies the entire week, is an interfaith service.

The theme of the 1952 Religious Emphasis Week, "Lift Up Your Eyes," was adopted from a psalm of David:

*"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills
from whence cometh my help,
My help cometh from the Lord
which made heaven and earth . . ."*

An explanation of this theme from last year's program follows:

"In this day of indecision, man has learned that the only One to whom he can turn for help is our God in Heaven. To the spire of the University's new chapel, His house, the students can lift their eyes to search the skies and ask God for peace on earth, good will to all men."

Chapel Choir

Students interested in joining the chapel choir which sings at regular Sunday services and on special occasions, are urged to watch the Diamondback for information concerning the meetings of the group.

Spring Sports

After the cold spell leaves the campus, the sports season changes and "spring fever" makes its appearance, while Maryland athletes begin their practice sessions for the outdoor sports that are ahead.

The first days of fair weather find the baseball players donning their red sweat suits with their ultimate goal being a crack at the Southern Conference championship. Across the practice field the lacrosse sticks begin to pick up the momentum, as the stickmen set their sights on the coming season against the lacrosse powers of the country. The "thin clads" begin to limber up tight muscles for another crack at the Conference Track title. The linkmen try to crack par, while the tennis team begins to defend their crown.

Baseball Coach

BURTON SHIPLEY

Baseball

The Maryland baseball team completed its 29th season under the tutelage of Coach Burton Shipley with a season's record of 11 wins and 9 losses. Last season marked the first time in three years that the Terrapin baseball team did not make the trip to the Southern Conference tournament.

Bernie Faloney and Chester Hanulak, both of football fame, bolstered Shipley's offense last year. Faloney proved to be the best hitter on the team with a .357 average to beat out George Howard, the only other regular to hit over the 300 mark. Hanulak led the team in stolen bases.

Connie Hemphill led the hill contingent, posting a 7 and 2 record. The righthander, who won his first six starts, will probably be Shipley's number one hurler next spring.

The entire infield will be back with Eddie Miller at third, Dick Blake at second, Faloney at short-stop, Ernie Berlinger and Ike Love at first.

Golf

FRANK CRONIN

Coach Frank Cronin's golf team racked up a season's record of seven wins and four defeats. The linksmen terminated their year by winning the Western Maryland Invitational Tournament. Maryland's winning team was composed of Bob Miller, Bill Buppert, Russ Clark, and Carl Kronberger, the latter three were among the five leading tournament scorers.

This coming season Cronin will have the course services of Buppert, the only Terp golfer to turn in a winning card in all eleven matches, Clark and Kronberger. All three returning golfers held a championship before coming to Maryland. Buppert was the 1949 Maryland scholastic champ, Kronberger captured the Interscholastic crown; and Clark was the junior champion of Maine in 1950.

The golfers included Loyola, Hopkins, Delaware, Georgetown, V.M.I. Richmond, George Washington in their conquests while suffering setbacks to Virginia, William and Mary, Navy and Western Maryland.

Lacrosse Coaches: Faber and Heagy

Lacrosse

Although Jack Faber and Al Heagy, named in "stick" circles as the deans of the nation's lacrosse coaches, will open their spring season with most of the attack and the entire midfield intact, their foremost problem will be the defense. The co-coaches will be seeking replacements for first string All-American Bill Larash and Bill Hubbell.

The Maryland season was highlighted by a 12-11 win over Virginia. This was the only defeat handed the Cavaliers, who tied R.P.I. for the national championship. The Terps piled up five straight victims, before Navy squelched the victory skein with a 10-9 overtime decision.

After losing to Princeton and Army, the Terps rebounded with a win over Loyola. The stickmen then battled Johns Hopkins to a thrilling 10-10 overtime finale.

Tennis

Tennis Coach

DOYLE ROYAL

Compiling the best Spring record of any Maryland team, the varsity tennis squad tied Duke for the Southern Conference championship with a season record of 11 wins and only one defeat for the second best net season in Terrapin history. After suffering their lone setback at the hands of the strong Navy contingent, the tennis team went on to win ten straight matches.

Coach Doyle Royal will have Mel Huyett, John Meyers, Bud Leightheiser, Dennis Hevener, and Jack Clifford back to open the team's title defense. Royle lost the services of one of his outstanding net men, Lee Childs who teamed with Leightheiser to go undefeated in nine doubles matches.

Track

JIM KEHOE

Maryland's track team added the Southern Conference outdoor track title to their previously won indoor crown, piling up 57.7 points to win the 28th Annual Conference meet at Chapel Hill.

Terp Morty Cohen repeated his 1951 win in the broad jump while Dick Lentz tied for first place high jump honors. Lentz also set the D.C.A.A.U. record with a jump of 6-feet 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches.

Taking eight firsts while scoring points in each of the 16 events, the cinder team rolled up an overwhelming total of 99 1-6 points to win the D.C.A.A.U. track and field championship. During their dual season, Coach Jim Kehoe's track squad scored decisive wins over the Quantico Marines, North Carolina and Georgetown, which was the seventh straight dual victory over the Hoyas. The lone dual loss coming in the meet with Navy.

"M" Club

President	WILLIAM LARASH
Vice-President	MORTY COHEN
Secretary	WILLIAM ANDREWS
Treasurer	SID COHEN

Maryland athletes who have won their letter either by participation in a sport or in the role of a varsity manager make up the undergraduate chapter of the M Club. The M Club's year-round activities include assisting with pep rallies and showing football movies. Their social event of the year is sponsoring the Homecoming Dance.

Latch Key Organization

PresidentWALTER HEID
Vice-PresidentBEN BACARRO
Secretary-Treasurer	BUD WRIGHT
Faculty AdvisorDUKE WYRE

Latch Key is an honorary society composed of athletic managers. The purpose of this group is to create harmony among the student managers of various sports and to extend the hospitality of Maryland to visiting teams and athletes, show them the campus, and provide entertainment for them during their stay. These student managers play an important role in the sports program. New students interested in becoming future varsity managers may contact any athletic coach or manager.

Men's Intramurals

Under the direction of Jim Kehoe, the University Intramural department has formulated a program, which includes twenty-six activities, designed to provide recreational activity for male students.

More than 4,500 men of the University participate in intramural athletics which includes, touch football, horseshoes, tennis, cross country, boxing, wrestling, badminton, volleyball, basketball, table tennis, bowling, foul shooting, gymnastics, softball, golf, track, weight-lifting, and bait-casting.

All of the team sports are divided into both Open and Fraternity leagues, with the winners each competing for the school title in play-offs at the end of the respective season. Often winners of the various events participate in tournaments against the winners from other nearby schools, which adds the spirit of competition to the program.

Fraternity participation is 100% and a cup is presented each year to the fraternity which has amassed the most points. Medals, gold for the first place team members and silver for the second place team, are presented for each sport. Also individual winners in the non-team sports are presented medals for their victory.

The center of the intramural activities is in the new Armory and the adjacent fields where most of the games are played. The only off-campus facility used for the program are the College Park bowling alleys. The intramural office is located in the Armory.

Women's Director

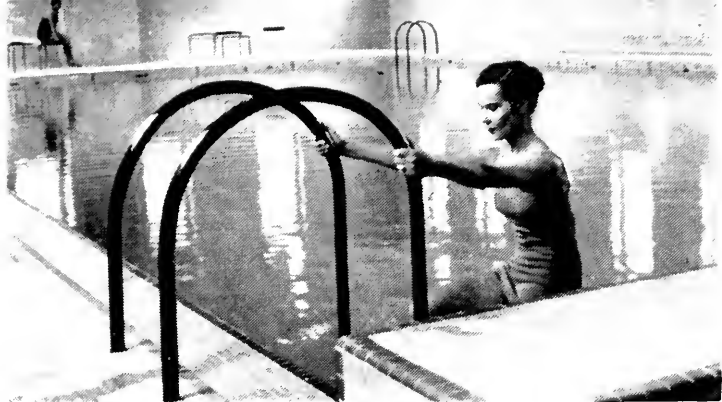

DOROTHY DEACH

Women's Intramurals

Through the cooperation of Dr. Dorothy Deach, Dean of the College of Physical Education for Women, the Women's Recreation Association is able to provide an opportunity for women to participate in intramural activities on this campus.

All women students are automatically members of this organization and they may participate in any or all of the organization's activities. The purpose of the W. R. A. is to provide wholesome recreation for the women enrolled at the University. The organization sets up and runs the women's intramural program on campus with the help of the P. E. majors' officiating class. Sports which are included in the program of intramurals are: archery, badminton, bowling, basketball, swimming, softball, tennis, and volleyball.

Women's intercollegiate sports on campus are just gaining recognition throughout the efforts of W. R. A. This organization sponsored a basketball team that played host to Western Maryland College and Trinity College of Washington, D. C.

Women's Pool

Last year was the first full season that the women's pool was used. Located in the new annex of the Women's Field House, the pool has adequate facilities to provide coeds with healthful year-round swimming. The pool is opened for recreational swimming Monday through Friday from 1 p. m. until 5:15 p. m. and 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. except on Wednesday night when the swimming club meets. A clinic is held for those desiring swimming lessons on Saturday morning from 10 a. m. until 12 noon.

The pool is of standard size, 75 feet by 35 feet. The depth of the pool ranges from three feet six inches to ten feet in the deep end.

A swimming meet is sponsored each year by W. R. A. for the women students. Sorority, dorm, and independent teams compete, and a trophy is awarded to the team receiving the most points.

Military

What you have heard about the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corp (AFROTC) unit at Maryland may not have impressed you much. However, when you become one of the 2,600 men who trudge to lectures on logistics, sleep through air operations training films, and hope vainly that drill will be called off because of rain, you will appreciate a little better what went into the making of the 185 Maryland men who were commissioned as second lieutenants last June.

For two years you must wear the overseas cap and Eisenhower jacket of the basic cadet. Then if—in spite of the organized confusion that is called drill every Tuesday and Thursday—the Air Force still holds an allure for you, you may apply for advanced training.

After careful screening you will probably be accepted and will don the dress cap, blouse, and chevrons of the cadet officer.

About future military service? . . . well, Uncle Sam will decide that!

AFROTC Color Guard
passes in review

The High Command

Operations of the AFROTC unit are supervised by half a hundred Air Force officers, who must keep detailed records on each cadet in the largest AFROTC unit in the country as well as provide classroom and drill instruction.

Top man in this organization is the Professor of Air Science and Tactics, who coordinates the activities of the unit. Last year marked the end of Colonel John C. Pitchford's four year tour of duty here at Maryland. His successor as PAS&T is Colonel Joseph R. Ambrose, who recently returned to the United States from duty in the Far East.

The ROTC program was transferred this year from the Continental Air Command to the Air University, which brings with it plans for reorganization of the academic program.

Spring AFROTC Events

The colorful Military Ball in the spring, at which new members of the honorary military societies are tapped, provides a welcome break in the drill program; more important, it gives every cadet the opportunity to show off his best girl. Formal dress is the "command" of the evening.

The AFROTC year culminates in Military Day, which features a review by the Governor of the State of Maryland, competitive drill, exhibits and demonstrations, and the presentation of awards and trophies to outstanding cadets.

These events stimulate interest in the Air Force program and augment the scholastic curriculum.

AFROTC Sponsors

The purpose of the AFROTC Sponsors is to improve the "esprit de corps" of the Air Division as well as to act as hostesses to families and visitors on various occasions.

Any girl is eligible to try out for the position of sponsor. After this initial tryout, sponsors are selected by the officers of the AFROTC. New sponsors are presented at Military Day ceremonies.

The sponsors work with the three military honoraries in planning for the Military Ball. At this dance, the sponsors promenade with the commanding officers of the groups they represent.

Another privilege of the sponsors is to march with their respective groups at football games.

This year's Air Division Sponsor is Nancy Richardson, with Joy Mayea, Joan Hoover, and Fran Swann as the three wing sponsors, respectively, and twenty-six individual unit sponsors.

Arnold Air Society

Commanding Officer	JAMES KEEFER
Executive Officer	REYNOLD BYRNE
Operations Officer	CHARLES MYERS
Adjutant Recorder	LEONARD NEALE
Treasurer	DENZEL WILSON
Public Relations	JAMES MILLER

The Arnold Air Society is composed of advanced cadets who have demonstrated exceptional leadership ability, high scholastic standing, and interest in the Air Force. The purpose of this honorary society is to develop these desirable traits in preparation for military service.

Scabbard and Blade

President	DONALD CORRICK
Vice-President	FLOYD WYATT
Secretary	ROBERT LINDERMAN
Treasurer	STANLEY WOODMAN
Faculty Advisor	MAJOR JOHN GRIER

Established on the Maryland campus in 1922 as the "I" Company in the Third Regiment of Scabbard and Blade, this organization has as its objective the development of command ability in cadet officers. The members of this national military honorary fraternity are selected for leadership, loyalty, and scholarship. Its members must maintain a 3.0 average in Military Science. Members are tapped annually at the Military Ball. Meetings are held every other Thursday at 4 p. m.

Pershing Rifles

Commander	CHARLES MYERS
Executive Officer	CLARENCE GADDY
Operations Officer	HENRY RICHTER
Adjutant	DONALD FRIZZELL
Drill Officer	DONALD SHANNON
First Sergeant	LEE TIGNER

The Pershing Rifles is composed of basic cadets interested in precision drilling. The PR's give drill demonstrations, engage in competition with units from other schools, and supply honor guards and ushers at campus functions throughout the year.

The PR unit is organized along the lines of an infantry company of three platoons. Members, who sign up during registration, wear distinctive blue and white citation cords and white gloves.

AFROTC Band

(Officers to be elected in fall from advanced corps band members)

Faculty Advisor LT. ROBERT L. LANDERS

The AFROTC Band is composed of members of basic AFROTC. It is one of the more colorful campus military units. Positions in the band are open to all basic AFROTC members who are qualified to play band instruments. The band meets at 11 a. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The band furnishes music for convocations, military parades, Military Day, and similar programs. Members of the band may be distinguished from other members of basic AFROTC by the red and white lanyards which they wear.

Honoraries

Being tapped by an honorary is an event long remembered after graduation. It is an honor bestowed on only a few who are outstanding in their chosen field or in some phase of campus life.

The effort spent in achieving the honor is rewarded many times. The proud tappee earns his classmates' respect and the prestige that goes with initiation into an honor society. But most rewarding of all is the deep sense of personal satisfaction experienced by the individual.

Membership into an honorary at the University of Maryland is within the reach of anyone who has enough desire to strive for high scholarship, leadership, and character. Twenty-seven honoraries representing almost every curriculum and activity on campus are open to those worthy of belonging.

"Hitch your wagon to a star," is the best advice we can give you. Class of 1956. Good luck!

Maryland Songs and Cheers

Perhaps the two most important things connected with a football game, besides a winning team, are the college cheers and band. No college's story could be complete without the songs and cheers which express its spirit. Maryland's rapid growth as a state university and its newly acquired position as a leader in collegiate sports has brought more and larger crowds to fill the spacious stadium. Maryland has its share of expressive songs woven around the customs of the University. Cheers add to the enthusiasm and color of the big games. In order to be able to keep up with the crowd you will want to learn the songs and cheers which form a traditional part of your college life.

The main organizers of the pre-game pep rallies are the members of the Student Activities committee. The purpose of this organization is to back the teams by rallies, away-game send-offs and airport welcomes, and to increase student interest in athletic programs.

The cheerleaders take over where the Student Activities committee stops. Their task is to promote organized cheering throughout the crowd. The cheerleaders are invaluable in pre-game warm-ups in cheering and songs, just as their participation in the numerous half-time activities; aid the cheerleaders in providing the much publicized "big game atmosphere."

Point Count

After each Maryland touchdown it is the custom to count the number of points that the team had scored so far. The cheerleaders will lead in this counting.

Conclusion

Now that you have read the 1956 edition of the M Book, we of the staff sincerely hope that you have enjoyed it; that our work on the handbook during the summer has been of value to incoming students in their first days on the campus; and that our efforts will spur you on to a successful college career.

Our little "freshie" Terry Pinn, who has travelled too enthusiastically through the pages with you, didn't heed the advice given him when he arrived. His playing interrupted his studying and thus his college days, short but sweet, were all in vain. Let the mythical little terrapin serve as an object lesson to all incoming students.

As editor-in-chief of your freshman handbook, I can only say in conclusion: "Good luck, and make the most of your college career at our great alma mater . . . the University of Maryland."

Sincerely,

The 1956 M Book Staff:

NED FRANCE, Editor
